Branson's finance and personnel director leaving

Branson Finance and Personnel Director Lori Helle has announced her resignation effective December 2.

Helle has been with the city in that position since September 2008, coming to Branson from Chesterfield, Missouri, a St. Louis suburb, where she was the director of finance and administration. She has more than 17 years experience in city finances with nine years of supervisory experience.

She is returning to the St Louis area to be with her immediate family. Her husband lives there as do her two sons who recently moved there from this area.

Helle is an accounting and business administration graduate of Drury University in Springfield and has a Master's Degree in Business Administration from Lindenwood University in St. Charles, MO>

Her responsibilities for the city of Branson as both finance and personnel director will be divided with Assistant Finance Director Jamie Rouch being named interim finance director, and Kelli Fleck, deputy personnel officer, being named interim personnel director.
